Amy Rinaudot is a Senior Wealth Associate who joined Seventy2 Capital in 2021. She provides best-in-class operational and administrative support to multiple financial advisors and their clients. Amy believes in maintaining a thorough, positive, and thoughtful approach, making her an incredible asset to Seventy2 Capital and the company's client base.

Prior to joining Seventy2 Capital, Amy held a similar role with Merrill Lynch, where she supported an experienced team of advisors. She spent her earlier career in corporate accounting, first with a prominent media company, then a government contractor in the Washington, DC metro area. In this capacity, she refined a strong attention to detail with care and meticulousness, which have been key staples in her work in wealth management.

Amy earned a Bachelor's degree in Accounting & Finance from the University of Maryland, Global Campus. Originally from Mt. Airy, Maryland, Amy now resides in Clarksburg, Maryland with her husband and two young children. In her spare time, she loves traveling to the beach as often as possible.
