

Justin Saur

Financial Advisor

justin.saur@seventy2capital.com

As a Financial Advisor at Seventy2 Capital, Justin has a goal-based approach to wealth management. He builds an investment plan around his clients' most important goals to help them reach financial freedom. Justin has gained particular experience advising business owners, corporate and non-profit executives, and high net worth individuals and families.

Justin joined the Seventy2 Capital team as a college intern and, upon graduation, became a full-time Client Service Associate. After supporting the Seventy2 Capital partners for four years in this position, he was promoted to be a Financial Advisor.

Justin earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from the University of Maryland. In his free time, Justin enjoys reading, running, and working on his golf game.
