As a Senior Vice President at Seventy2 Capital Wealth Management, Les Dennis aims to help clients build, manage, and transition wealth from this generation to the next. He provides comprehensive financial guidance for his clients, including retirement planning, and estate planning, business succession and 401K plan strategies. By getting to know his clients and their financial objectives, he creates a customized and flexible approach to help them reach their goals.

Les has over twenty-five years of experience in the investment management industry. Prior to joining Seventy2 Capital, he served as a financial advisor at Merrill Lynch, Wells Fargo Advisors, and BB&T Investments (now Truist). Committed to professional development, he is a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ certificant, awarded by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc., as well as Chartered Financial Consultant® and Chartered Life Underwriter® from American College.

Les holds a bachelor's degree from Salisbury University, with majors in Economics and Marketing and a minor in Finance. Outside of the office, he enjoys spending time with his family, hunting, golfing, and cheering on the Orioles and Ravens.
